ONLY WAITING FOR THE NEXT SEASON.

Equity Warehouses, Are Ready For Business—One Belief That Much Tobacco Will Be Handled.

Practically all arrangements have been completed for handling the tobacco of Breckenridge and Hancock county farmers, in the Equity warehouses in this county, at the opening of the next season. Some tobacco has been received by the houses at Kirk and McQuady but none here nor at Hardinsburg.

As stated in the News last week, the warehouses and managers for them have been secured, and the contracts between the growers and the Louisville Warehouse company, which is the money power behind the warehouse movement, have been made by the finance committee, composed of G. S. Wilson, E. B. Oglesby and Silas Miller, which was appointed at the tobacco growers' convention at Hardinsburg on April 1. Last week a change in the number of places in the county where tobacco will be received was made. Stephensport being omitted from the original list of five places. Instead of Crawford, Squire, and Stephensport, managing warehouses here and at Stephensport, as was first planned, Mr. Crawford will not take an active interest in the movement, while Mr. Squires will manage the warehouse in this city. This will leave three other Equity warehouses in the county, those at Hardinsburg, Kirk and McQuady, where John O'Riley, Sheeran & Jarboe and Lyons Bros., respectively, will be in charge. It is announced that all four are ready for business and the movement seems an assured success.

Mat. Lancaster, of Louisville, a representative of the Louisville Warehouse company, and Mr. Squires were here last Wednesday and made arrangements to rent the J. B. Pace tobacco factory to use as the local Equity warehouse. Lew Waggoner has been selected for grader at this house.

The part of the business at each of the four Equity houses which will have to be looked after by the finance committee will be in the charge, as far as possible, of the member of the committee who resides nearest the house.

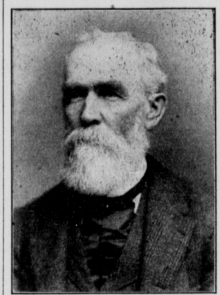

There is some speculation as to the amount of tobacco that will be delivered at the Equity warehouses and as to the number of farmers who will want advances and the number who will not. One member of the finance committee stated to the News that it is his opinion that a large number of growers will have their tobacco handled by the Equity houses when they thoroughly understand the plan on which this will be done, and realize that it is the best plan to hold for better prices, because the tobacco is put in a better condition for keeping it than would be possible on the farm. He also said that he believes many Hancock county growers will deliver their crops to the local houses.

Many growers who are members of the American Society of Equity are determined to hold their tobacco at home, as are non-members of this organization, to whom the use of the Equity warehouses are open also.

The terms on which tobacco will be handled have already been set forth in these columns.

The adoption of the warehouse plan is favored not only by the farmers

A. S. Of E. Picnics in Davies.

A number of local unions of the American Society of Equity in Davies county are making preparations to give big picnics at early dates. Members of the Society and farmers generally will be invited to participate. At the picnics there will be speakings and a good time generally.

This is considered a pretty good idea for local unions of the A. S. of E. elsewhere to adopt.

who need help through it but by the merchants of the county, who realize that even the advances made by the warehouses will put enough money into circulation to have an appreciable effect on hitherto depressed business conditions.

DID THINGS WELL WORTH EMULATING.

Good Talks at S. S. Convention at Irvington—Resolutions to Use Thoughts and do Greater Work.

Irvington, Ky., April 18.—(Special.)—The Bewleyville district Sunday-school convention was held at the Baptist church here Saturday. Despite the unfavorable weather quite a large crowd was in attendance. Doubtless all who attended were benefited by the talks and addresses which were made.

The minutes and the resolutions of the convention are as follows:

The convention opened by singing praise to our Lord.

Rev. Dan Shacklett read the nineteenth Psalm, followed with prayer invoking God's richest blessings on the convention and all Sunday School workers.

We were extended a hearty welcome by Mr. Herndon.

As Rev. E. B. English was absent, the response was given by Rev. Schultz.

He expressed our sentiments when he said: "We are glad to be here, not for social pleasure only, but to gather good seed."

The first topic called was "Pastor's Place in the Sunday School and Does much Depend on him," by Rev. Schultz, in which he said: The pastor should be an important factor of all church work. Let the pastor do five minutes of catechetical work. It will teach children more of the Bible than any sermon. Pastor's business to have general oversight of whole school. The climax of this work is to lead children and older ones into the kingdom of Christ. And whose place is it more than the pastor's?

On Miss Frayer's topic "The Power of Suggestion," she said: Children act more readily on a suggestion than older ones and imitate their elders. Now, does not that make Sunday school teachers think? The greatest power to suggest in life is by studying Christ. His work and word. We can not suggest to children on Sunday unless we have listened to His suggestions during the week.

Mrs. Estelle True said she divided her subject, "Why we should study the lesson and when," into two divisions. Why. For love and compensation. Love for Him who has done so much for us that we have the joy of giving in this love. When—Prepare during the week. It is then the joy and beauty of the lesson around us.

Mr. Cain said: Conventions do pay as an advertising of the Sunday school. They bring people of all denominations together in Christ's work.

Mrs. Piggott's most excellent paper was summed up in this: We must see Jesus if we expect to win and hold the children. Lord is it I that shall betray the trust I have given me? The story of the Five Thousand was beautifully told by Miss Frayer. Let us not forget the truth she wished to impress—Christ wants us to give all, as the little boy did.

Rev. Lewis said the church had not fully realized the importance and possibility of the Sunday school. For it generally let the Sunday school run itself and it is dangerous for anything to run itself. Every church member should be a Sunday school worker.

Miss Kartz said one missionary feature in Sunday school was bringing others to the school. Another teaching them to give, so as to enlighten those poor, deluded neighbors of ours across the sea. And are we teaching the children such?

The Mission of Sunday School—Rev. Hynes. The Sunday school is the church engaged in the study of God's word and its mission is to teach, reach and to save men.

One of the greatest hindrances to the Sunday school is the lack of parents not attending, so said several.

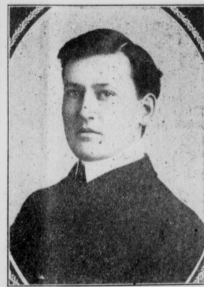

All schools of the district were represented and had splendid reports. After much discussion and discussion the following officers were elected for ensuing year.

S. C. Dowell, Pres.
T. B. Henderson, Vice Pres.
Nan E. Lyddan, Sec'y.

TO IMPROVE TAR SPRINGS.

W. J. Halliday, New Owner, Flakes
Excellent Impression Here.

W. J. Halliday, of Chicago, who has bought the Tar Springs property near this city, was interviewed by a representative of the News last week as to the nature of the improvements he intends to make on the property. Mr. Halliday was reticent about giving out any information as to his plans, but authorized the statement that he will improve the property. He understood that Mr. Halliday has not yet made all arrangements for improving the property, but will make public his plans when he has done so.

The property was bought last year from R. K. Williams, of Evansville, and Joe Cooper, of Haverhill, by Mrs. Estelle True Sell, of Chicago. Mrs. True Sell did not pay all of the purchase price and there was a mortgage on the property, which was paid by Mr. Halliday. These and other arrangements that have been made between the original owners and Mrs. True Sell and Mr. Halliday have put the property entirely into his possession.

Mr. Halliday has been in the summer resort business for years and has been very successful. He has made an excellent impression here and the general opinion is that he will improve and operate the Tar Springs on a scale that will make it a first-class summer resort and a benefit to the town.

A. O. STANLEY TO SPEAK.

Accepts Invitation to be At County Seat On Monday, May 8.

Congressman A. O. Stanley, of the Second District, has accepted an invitation of the tobacco growers of Breckenridge county to address them at Hardinsburg on Monday, May 8, the first day of circuit court. Congressman Stanley has addressed tobacco growers at Haverhill, Owensboro and other points in the State and has been favorably received. The tobacco growers of this county are gratified to learn that he has accepted their invitation and it is very probable that a large crowd will be on hand to hear him.

Mr. Stanley's letter of acceptance is addressed to Joel H. Pile, Secretary of the Breckenridge County Union, A. S. of E., through whom the invitation was made, and reads as follows:

"The kind invitation of the dark tobacco growers of Breckenridge county, tendered through you with such earnest and flattering greeting, is accepted with pleasure. I shall allow nothing to prevent my coming at that time.

"This movement of the dark tobacco growers to prevent the tariff fixing both the price of the raw material and the finished product has already, in many places, been crowned with a success that is astonishing when you consider the obstacles which were met and overcome. I am convinced that I could devote my energies and what poor capacity I possess to no greater cause than this, and I have already been abundantly rewarded in the success which has been attained.

"Let me tender through you to this great organization, which you represent, my sincerest wishes for their success. Assuring you once again of my more than willingness to assist you in every way possible, I remain,

"Very truly yours,

"A. O. Stanley."

A TRIP FROM SAN FRANCISCO TO MANILA.

Written in diary form, by I. W. D., formerly of Balltown.

Jan. 9. Raining this morning. A black cloud is hanging low in the southwest. I intend to visit "Punch Bowl" today, but had to give it up on account of the rain. I had a conversation with the father of James J. Jeffries. He is an evangelist. He told me that he had traveled around the world five times and had always followed the biblical injunction to carry neither money nor script. He spoke affectionately of the champion, "Big Jim," as he called him. The ship is taking on coal to-day, the work being done by a motley crowd, among which are Japanese, Portuguese, Kanakas and Porto Ricans. The last named were imported by the planters to work on the sugar plantations and I am told have proved to be a case of "white elephant" on their hands, as they will not work at steady employment, and are of the worst criminal class.

At 5 p. m. we bade farewell to the beautiful island, and resumed our long voyage. The Hawaiian territorial band came down to the pier and played us off. The sun came out and a beautiful rain-bow appeared in the east and remained visible as we steamed out to sea. I had heard and read much about Honolulu and I was not disappointed in what I saw. It is a beautiful place to live in if one can afford it, but it is no place for a laboring man to seek a home, as wages are kept down by the Asiatics, and about the only industry is the production of sugar. I am told that the land is owned in large tracts by capitalists, and is not for sale. You ask, are their owners natives? No, bless your life, they are white men who came to civilize them. Result—the white man gets the land and the native gets nothing.

The natives are large and robust in appearance and somewhat inclined to obesity, especially the women, said to be caused by eating a native fruit called "Poi." These simple people are great lovers of flowers. The women wear great wreaths of them on their heads and about their necks. Old residents tell me that the climate is perfect.

There is no disease to combat except leprosy, and some of the people even claim that it is better contagious than hereditary. Nevertheless it is segregated as much as possible on the island of Molokai.

Jan. 10. Sea comparatively calm to-day, nothing of interest, no ships sighted, and no fish seen.

Jan. 11. Sea the quietest I have seen yet, scarcely a ripple to disturb it. I saw a few flying fish. They are not just what one would imagine them to be. They are small, from one to six or eight inches in length, and are not good on the wing. They skim along a few inches above the water, often only a few yards, and never more than 150 or 200 yards. It is said that they can fly only as long as their wings are wet.

Jan. 12. A fine day, sky clear, sun getting hot, nothing of interest to write about.

Jan. 13. Day absolutely perfect. Copeland, the steward, in the way, is from Missouri, told me that he saw a rainbow last night at 11 p. m. A rain-bow by moon light. As I am not from Missouri he did not have to show me; I took his word for it.

The weather is very warm to-day. Some of the men partitioned off part of the upper deck and refreshed themselves by taking salt water baths, turning the fire hose on each other.

Jan. 15. You see I have jumped from the 13th to the 15th, as we crossed the international date line last night at 6 p. m. I retired Saturday evening, the 13, and awoke this morning, Monday, the 15.

Some of the men who were on deck at 10 a. m. claim that they saw a whale. I don't know whether they did or not. Some others who impress me as being good men and true, say that they were not able to see anything that even looked like a whale.

Jan. 16, 17, 18th and 19th. The trip is getting rather monotonous. There is nothing to write about and nothing to be seen but an unending waste of water, which seems to rise at all points of the compass in a gradual incline, which makes it appear as if we were in a basin.

One of the recruits died on the 17th, death being due to typhoid fever. He was not buried at sea but will be taken back to the States. I saw a few albatross the 18th, but have not sighted a ship since leaving Honolulu. We had quite a number of very good boxing bouts last week.

Jan. 20. I am writing this at 5 p. m. Of the beautiful nights I have seen I think that this equals all. The moon is full and appears to be more brilliant than when seen at home. Light, fleecy clouds are scurrying across the sky, occasionally causing the moon to appear as if a thin veil were over it.

The spirits of the men are at high tide. Nearly all seem to enjoy good health. Some are troubled with temporary ailments which are to be expected to trouble landmen during a long sea voyage. A large crowd are holding high carnival on the spar deck. I can hear them now. The shrill notes of a life and the crash of three improvised snare drums, obtained by removing the clothing from as many party muske telescope grips. This improvised drum corps are wailing the echoes of the civil war by striking up such tunes as "Marching Through Georgia," "John Brown's Body," "Dixie" and the "Stars and Stripes." I must close for to-night, go up and take a smoke and then go to bed. Right here let me give the reader a pointer which will not come amiss if you ever take a trip on an army transport. Night before last I discovered an excellent place to sleep, that is if the weather is good. Now I am going to put you "next." Wait until taps have sounded and everybody has turned in except the usual star-gazers, then take your blankets, go up on deck, look up a little forward of the bridge and you will see the boat deck with four large lifeboats lying thereon. Watch your chances and when the officer on the bridge is looking the other way, toss up your blankets, seize the rigging and pull yourself up, but be careful not to expose yourself to view. Now crawl along the deck until you reach one of the life boats. You will find that it is pretty large and that from the keel outward and upward there is quite a slope. Now fold one of your blankets, making two thick- nesses, spread it under the slope, remove your clothing, put it where you would place a pillow if you had one. Now lie down and spread the other blanket over you and if you don't fall into a sweet and restful sleep it will be because your stomach or your conscience are not just right.

Jan. 20. Weather still fine but getting very hot. Sighted land on the starboard side at 3 p. m. An island of the Ladrone group. We passed about 10 miles to the south of it at 5 p. m. and at this writing, 9:30, we are skirting the northern coast of an island the name of which I have not learned but think it is Guam. It appears to be of large size.

Jan. 31. My surmises proved to be correct. At about 10 p. m. last night we lay to and fired three rockets, the signal of our arrival, but did not go on until this morning. I was up early to see what the place looked like. What I saw was like most coast lines, bluffs rugged and broken here and there by a stretch of sandy beach. The land is covered with the usual tropical growth. I cannot tell you much about Guam except that which has been told me, for we were not permitted ashore, as there is no dock, the harbor being very shallow. We dropped anchor about two miles from shore and proceeded to unload 80 tons of quartermaster's supplies, first transferring them to lighters of shallow draft and thence to the shore. The labor being performed by small copper-colored natives. The city of Agaña, the capital of the island, is situated inland a distance of seven miles and cannot be seen from the bay. Only a few houses can be seen near the beach. The town is garrisoned by 150 U. S. marines, who occupy a very pleasant looking set of barracks on a hill near the beach. I enjoyed a plunge in the bay this morning. The idea seemed to strike about fifty of the command simultaneously, as there was a general scramble over the rail to see who could be first in. We were enjoying ourselves to the greatest extent when we were ordered back on board by the officer of the day, who said that the bay was full of sharks.

At 3:30, the freight having been unloaded, we hoisted anchor and put to sea. We are now on the home-stretch. Only a few more days and we will be on "terra firma" once more.

Jan. 23. Nothing of interest to-day, everybody is getting tired as the novelty of the voyage has worn off and one needs a change, for instance it would be pleasant if one could get off and walk for awhile.

Jan. 24. We are still forging ahead. Twenty-four days out of San Francisco and two days yet before we reach our destination. This certainly is a "big" pond.

Jan. 25. Oh, but the sun beats down as fiercely today. Why don't we go below, you ask. Well, because if we did we would almost suffocate for want of air, for there is very little of it circulating between decks. We have plenty of canvas and could put it up as awnings, but the commanding officer will not permit it, as he says it is best to get used to the heat now rather than wait until we get ashore. I agree with him on that but some of the lads don't see it that way. However they refrain from making suggestions.

Jan. 26. Plenty of land in sight to-day. We entered Bernardino strait at about 6 a. m. Luzon is on our starboard side and during the day we have passed on our port side first Samar, Masbate, the Ransalan group and Mindoro. The water is smooth as glass. The land on either side shows little signs of cultivation. The greatest part looks to be almost untouched by the hand of man. Here and there one can see a small village of bamboo huts walled and roofed with nipa grass. I have seen five sharks and a school of porpoise since entering the strait. We expect to arrive at Manila tomorrow morning.

Jan. 27. At last we have arrived at our destination. We passed Corregidor Island, at the entrance to the bay, about 5 o'clock this morning and dropped anchor about one mile from the mouth of the river at 7 a. m. I had made up my mind as to how the city of Manila would appear when seen from the harbor, and I find that I was not very much mistaken. The bay itself is much larger than I expected. It looks to me as though all the shipping in the world could be sheltered here. The German cruiser Frauenthat is moored a short distance away to port and almost directly astern is the U. S. Battleship Wisconsin. Across the bay at Cavite is almost the entire Asiatic Squadron. The ships are all decorated with "bunting" in honor of Emperor William's 46th birthday. At 12 all the ships and land batteries fired a salute of twenty-one guns in honor of the occasion. While I write this I am sitting on the mess deck near a hatchway, a gang of natives are busy yelling and gesticulating and, as a side issue, are unloading the cargo. The troops will not disembark until tomorrow morning. I am detailed for duty as paymaster's guard and will go ashore with him and, after escorting him to the sub-treasury, will report for duty at Pasay Garrison. The station of my battery, tomorrow morning I will say adios to a number of very good friends of mine in the 26th and 28th batteries. The 26th goes to Mindanao and the 28th to Jolo. I suppose we will meet here for the homeward voyage in the early part of 1907.

I will say nothing about the city of Manila, as I only intend this to cover the trip from San Francisco to this place.

A FACT 'BOUT THE "BLUES"

What is known as the "Blues" is seldom occasioned by actual existing external conditions, but in the great majority of cases by a disordered LIVER.

About Rheumatism.

There are few diseases that inflict more torture than rheumatism and there is probably no disease for which such a varied and useless lot of remedies have been suggested. To see that it can be cured is, therefore, a bold statement to make, but Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which enjoys an extensive sale, has met with great success in the treatment of this disease. One application of Pain Balm will relieve the pain, and hundreds of sufferers have testified to permanent cures by its use. Why suffer when Pain Balm affords such quick relief and costs but a trifle? For sale by Short & Haynes.

Like the running brook, the red blood that flows through the veins has to come from somewhere.

The springs of red blood are found in the soft core of the bones called the marrow and some say red blood also comes from the spleen. Healthy bone marrow and healthy spleen are full of fat.

Scott's Emulsion makes new blood by feeding the bone marrow and the spleen with the richest of all fats, the pure cod liver oil.

For pale school girls and invalids and for all whose blood is thin and pale, Scott's Emulsion is a pleasant and rich blood food. It not only feeds the blood-making organs but gives them strength to do their proper work.

PAINFUL PERIODS

Suggestions How to Find Relief from Such Suffering.

While no woman is entirely free from periodical suffering, it does not seem to be the plan of nature that women should suffer so severely. Menstruation is a severe strain on a woman's vitality. If it is painful or irregular something is wrong which should be set right or it will lead to a serious derangement of the whole female organism.

More than fifty thousand women have testified in grateful letters to Mrs. Pinkham that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound overcomes painful and irregular menstruation.

It provides a safe and sure way of escape from distressing and dangerous weaknesses and diseases.

The two following letters tell so convincingly what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will do for women, they cannot fail to bring hope to thousands of sufferers.

Miss Nellie Holmes, of 540 N. Division Street, Buffalo, N. Y., writes: Dear Mrs. Pinkham—Your medicine is indeed an ideal medicine for women. I suffered misery for years from painful periods, headaches, and bearing-down pains. I consulted two different physicians but failed to get any relief. A friend from the East advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did so, and no longer suffer as I did before. My periods are natural, every ache and pain is gone, and my general health is much improved. I advise all women who suffer to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mrs. Tillie Hart, of Larimore, N. D., writes: Dear Mrs. Pinkham—I might have been spared many months of suffering and pain had I only known of the efficacy of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Ask Mrs. Pinkham's Advice—A Woman Best Understands a Woman's Ills.

Business Men Endorse Newspaper Advertising.

There has been for many years a rank skepticism as to the best methods of promoting, sustaining and building up a business. In this day of enlightenment and success this skepticism is being overthrown and well established, demonstrable facts are taking its place. Formerly most business men thought that advertising was of little value in the development of trade. Perhaps the kind of advertising our fathers did was of little value, but there is a vast difference between the advertising of twenty-five years ago and that of today. In no field of endeavor has there been such developments as in the advertising field.

Modern advertising is, perhaps, the most valuable factor in establishing, maintaining and building up a business. The newspaper is today the ideal of modern publicity. It has the endorsement of the leading merchants, manufacturers and professional men who are acquainted with its merits. They are fast realizing from experience, of course, that the newspaper is the safest, least expensive and most productive of results. They have found that there is little of the speculative in newspaper advertising. Within a short time it is predicted that the newspaper will be regarded as necessary for success of any business enterprise as the invested capital itself.

This conclusion has been arrived at after most critical tests. It is based on facts as they exist today. It follows, then:

That newspaper advertising makes you well and favorably known.

That it gives you a better and wider publicity in the territory in which you are seeking trade than all other agencies combined.

That it gives to the advertiser the confidence it has won from the people through long years of service.

That it affords the best and least expensive way of putting your advertisements into the best homes of our country.

This being true, it seems there is no logical reason why every business man should not use the newspaper for obtaining the results he desires. The time has come when the old and effete custom of doing business must be discarded.

There is no time today to wait for the "quacks to swim to the shore."

You must wade in or sail out and get them. Newspaper advertising is the one effective, unerring gun with which you can bag your game.

THE END OF WORLD'S FAIR.

Enormous Equipage Torn Down And Affair Passes Into History.

On a bid of $450,000 a Chicago company has bought and is removing the buildings, the material and construction of the St. Louis world's fair, which cost $14,000,000. This includes all the physical property of the exposition company except the intramural cars and street railway equipment, which were sold to the St. Louis Car Company for $10,000; the Palace of Liberal Arts, which is to be permanent, and a few minor structures.

Thus the company has come into possession of 100,000,000 square feet of good building lumber, 300,000 square feet of ash lumber, 10,000 doors, 1,500,000 square feet of glass sky-lights, 3,000,000 square feet of iron and felt roofing, 4,000,000 square feet of burlap for wall covering, 500,000 incandescent lights and copper wire, which cost $300,000. Among its assets are two hospitals complete in all modern equipments, 3 greenhouses ready for utilization, anywhere each 300 feet long, with many sorts of plants and flowers, a fire department big enough for a city of 50,000 inhabitants, comprising 9 engines and 100,000 feet of rubber hose, thousands of chairs of all sorts, miles of iron picket and woven wire fences, hundreds of desks, wagons, dunnies, carts and steam rollers enough to fit up a dozen good roads societies, and many other sorts of paraphernalia.

Out of the structures, equipments and furnishings of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition a good sized city could be built. The debris would cover half a dozen fairs like that at Buffalo in 1901, or that which is to open in Portland, Oregon, in June, 1905.

Tobacco Trust's Big Profits.

Corrected figures show that the tobacco trust made $52,000,000 last year in the United States.

Locusts Plague This Year.

The seventeen-year locusts are predicted for this year by State Entomologist H. Garman, of Lexington. They will be here in May and June. The main body will not arrive until next year. The seventeen-year locusts are a species of the harvest fly known as the Cicada Septendecim and the devastation of all vegetation generally follows their wake. Seventeen years ago when they disappeared the females deposited their eggs in the tender twigs of the fruit and other succulent trees. The eggs hatched out and the caterpillar fell to the ground and burrowed in to the earth, living upon the sap of the roots of the tree for sixteen years. They come up from the earth cased in transparent shells from which they cast their way out. Their tender bodies become hard as soon as the sun strikes their wings. They are known by their red legs, black body and transparent wings which bear the letter "w" upon them, which the superstitious declare means war or the ending of war.

BABY TUCKER'S WONDERFUL CURE

Covered from Head to Foot with Humours—Forty Boils on Head at One Time—Doctors and Drug Bills $100—Baby Grew Worse.

CURED BY CUTICURA FOR FIVE DOLLARS

Mrs. George H. Tucker, Jr., 335 Greenfield Avenue, Milwaukee, Wis., is a grateful mother. "When six months old," she says, "my little girl weighed a pound and a half less than at birth. When one month old a scab formed on her face, spreading until it completely covered her from head to foot, followed by boils, having forty on her head at one time, and more on her body. Then her skin started to dry up, and it became so bad she could not shut her eyes to sleep. One month's treatment with Cuticura Soap and Ointment made a complete cure, and now my child is as large, strong, and healthy as any child of her age. The doctor's and drug bills were over one hundred dollars, and my baby grew worse all the time. Then we spent less than five dollars for Cuticura and cured her."

CUTICURA A BLESSING

JUDGE OF THE SUPREME COURT

Was Alarmingly Afflicted With La Grippe. Cured by Pe-ru-na.

The Grip is Properly Termed Epidemic Catarrh.

As Pe-ru-na Cures Every Form of Catarrh, It Has Relieved More Cases of Grip Than All Other Remedies Combined.

The Fear of Grip Makes People Nervous.

There is no remedy in the world that meets the conditions produced by the grip better than Pe-ru-na.

Pe-ru-na strengthens as it renovates, soothes while it stimulates, heals as it expurgates.

Pe-ru-na is not a purgative, or cathartic or sedative, or stimulant, nor a vegetable or mineral poison.

It reaches the source of all diseases of the mucous membranes by its action on the vaso-motor system of nerves.

After-Effects of the Grip.

Every person who has had la grippe during the last year should take a course of Pe-ru-na. No one need expect perfect recovery unless they do so.

The grip has produced catarrhal inflammation of the whole mucous membrane, and good health is impossible until these are restored to a normal condition. This Pe-ru-na will do.

A great many remedies have been suggested for this condition from time to time, but Pe-ru-na is the only remedy that has any substantial value in these cases.

It has never failed to give satisfaction.

A reward of $10,000 has been deposited in the Market Exchange Bank, Columbus, Ohio, as a guarantee that the above testimonial is genuine; that we hold in our possession authentic letters certifying to the same. Every one of our testimonials are genuine and in the words of the one whose name is appended.

W. H. Parsons is Ex-State Senator and Ex-Special Judge of the Supreme Court of Texas, and was also Brigadier-General in Confederate Army. In a recent letter from 925 H street, N. W., Washington, D. C., this prominent gentleman says:

"Upon the recommendation of personal friends and many strong testimonials as to the efficacy of Pe-ru-na in the treatment of the numerous symptoms of the grippe with which I have been afflicted for four months past, I have been induced to undergo a treatment with this justly celebrated formula. I feel a decided change for the better after using it only one week."

"It is especially good in toning up the stomach and has had a decided effect upon my appetite. I therefore feel much encouraged that I am on the road to complete restoration."

"My numerous friends in Texas, where I have had the honor to command a brigade of the Veteran Cavalry in a four years' war, may accept this voluntary testimonial to the merits of Pe-ru-na as a sense of obligation on my part for its wonderful efficacy."—W. H. Parsons.

during forty years' experience and still occupies the unique position of being the leading (if not the only) specific remedy for the after-effects of la grippe.

No Time Like the Present.

If you are suffering from the after-effects of la grippe—if you have become discouraged in your attempts to cure yourself with other treatments, take a bottle of Pe-ru-na now.

A bottle of Pe-ru-na taken during the beginning of the disease is worth more than a dozen bottles after the trouble has become deep-seated.

Miss Eugenie Lafortune of 110 Berre street, Montreal, Can., writes:

"Pe-ru-na cured me of a severe case of la grippe when nothing else had any effect on me. Five bottles did the work and they were worth hundreds of dollars for the comfort and health restored to me. I therefore feel that the least I can do is to gratefully acknowledge its merits."—Eugenie Lafortune.
